Sub-Hunting Gear Rushed To Argentina

... SHIPS TIGHTEN NET

Buenos Aires (AP)—Anxiously awaiting new U.S. anti-submarine equipment, the Argentine Navy pushed ahead Friday with its great submarine hunt in an Atlantic gulf 650 miles southwest of here.

Official secrecy shrouded the nautical hide-and-seek. Newspapers, rumor peddlers and streetcorner gossips rushed in to fill the news blackout with their own versions. The story virtually monopolized Argentine front pages.

The Navy continued to insist that there really is a submarine lurking somewhere under the surface of the Golfo Nuevo, a 20-by-40 mile body of water with a 10-mile opening into the Atlantic. Since it is almost completely surrounded by land, Argentina claims the gulf as its territorial waters and thus reserves the right to attack hostile ships there.

Can't Find

The trouble seems to lie in finding the mystery sub. This is the 14th day since it first was reported spotted by the Navy and the 11th since the Navy claims to have the foreign invader bottled up.

"I'm surprised it has not been captured or escaped by now," said one foreign naval expert when asked how long a submarine can remain below the surface without coming up to recharge its batteries.

However, Argentina's navy secretary, Rear Adm. Gaston Clement, said that the submarine—and he insisted it really was one—is forced to come up for air every 48 hours. To him this indicated the vessel had been damaged by depth charges, and he added that it had been attacked on the surface as well.

Clement again predicted capture was imminent.

Want Gear

President Arturo Frondizi's government backed up the Navy and sent a rush order to the United States for depth charges, electronic spare parts, electric testing devices and aircraft flares. The Pentagon said in Washington the gear is expected to arrive in Argentina by plane this weekend.

The Argentine corvette La Republica, carrying more modern anti-submarine equipment than the Navy has on the scene, was dispatched to the gulf from patrol duty several hundred miles north.

One foreign naval expert said that depth charges are about the only weapon the Argentines have against the underwater intruder.

He said they lack the equipment to track a modern submarine with sonar and "this is a difficult tactic even for the fast moving newer (surface) ships."

Signal To Surface

Another naval expert here pointed out that dropping depth charges is the equivalent of firing a shot across the bow of a surface vessel.

The Argentine Navy intended this as a signal for the sub to surface and identify itself, he said, and failure to do so in Argentine territorial waters is interpreted as a hostile act.

Kansas City Blast Blaze Razes Hotel

Kansas City (AP)—An explosion blew out the rear of a 3-story business building in downtown Kansas City Friday night. Flames spread to 3 hotels and firemen soon gave up efforts to save one—the New Victoria.

Fire leaped to the nearby Pickwick Hotel roof but was put out there quickly, while flames spread into a 3rd hotel, the Fredric.

From 60 to 80 residents of the New Victoria were evacuated, some by ladders, and firemen said so far as they knew everyone got out of the building.

Two persons were hospitalized for smoke inhalation.

The roof of the 6-story New Victoria collapsed about two hours after the fire started. The 110-room structure was about 68 years old.

The explosion occurred in a 3-story building adjoining the New Victoria.

Petition Drive To File Spelts?

... IN GOP GOVERNOR RACE

By Don Walton

A move was reportedly developing in Lincoln Friday night to file the name of former Republican State Chairman Richard E. Spelts Jr., of Grand Island as a petition candidate for governor.

Spelts, contacted by telephone, confirmed the fact that he has been approached by a representative of the group considering the petition move.

It was learned that the pro-Spelts group plans to travel to Grand Island to confront the former GOP chairman personally in an effort to persuade him to become a candidate.

Spelts Comments

Asked if he would accept a petition filing, Spelts said:

"I have tried hard to make my position very clear and evidently I have not been successful."

"I sincerely hope to be active politically in the future, but as for the present it does not seem timely as related to my personal and business life."

FRANCE FIRES A-BOMB

Big Blast In Sahara

SCORE POLITICAL WIN; BUST BIG 3 MONOPOLY

Paris (Saturday) (AP)—President De Gaulle announced today that France successfully exploded an atomic bomb in the Sahara this morning.

The explosion took place at "Point Zero" just south of Reggane at 6 a.m.

The communique announcing the explosion referred to an "atomic device" and said it was exploded from a tower.

The bomb was made of plutonium.

France now becomes a member of the Exclusive "Atomic Club" with the United States, Britain and Russia.

The communique said weather conditions were perfect for the explosion and the security of the people in the area had been assured.

Aid DeGaulle

The initial effect is likely to be the strengthening of President De Gaulle's position when Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev visits France March 15.

That meeting will be followed quickly by De Gaulle's trips to Britain and the United States. In all 3 meetings, he is expected to assert his views with more force than ever.

Always a tough bargainer, success in the atomic field can only make him tougher as he pursues his avowed policy of restoring French grandeur and influence.

The immediate military effect of the bomb will be almost equally important. The successful test was a big step toward giving France an "atomic capability." Not until 1963 can it have an appreciable atomic military punch.

Build Punch

Beginning that year, however, France is scheduled to build up an atomic punch capable of tactical strikes far from French borders.

A genuine strategic force capable of worldwide application still is far off, however.

But French military men—long sensitive to not having modern atomic weapons—will get a big boost in morale. This could lead to less sensitivity and greater cooperation within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

The communique announcing the bomb was released by the Ministry of Defense in the name of President De Gaulle.

"The security of the population of the Sahara and of neighboring countries has been assured," the communique said.

"The explosion took place in the conditions of strength and security foreseen." It added that the explosion placed France in a better position to conclude agreements with the world's atomic powers leading to nuclear disarmament.

The explosion took place with only some 600 technicians and specialists watching. No newsmen or foreign observers were invited. No minister of De Gaulle's cabinet even went to the testing site for the explosion.

The initial communique, which spoke of an atomic device and not a bomb, tended to confirm speculation that the first French explosion would be of a large machine and not of a bomb in the accepted military sense.

20,000 Tons

The strength of the French bomb was thought to be in the neighborhood of about 20,000 tons of TNT, although there was no official announcement. The French had earlier given assurance that the strength of their bomb would be less than 100,000 tons of TNT.

Dispatch Brings Joy To Captain

... Father Living

A United Press International dispatch from Seoul, Korea, about a father who wept with joy when he received news of the family he had lost 19 years ago, was the first word Capt. John Royce King had heard of his father since spring of 1941.

The press dispatch told of

Nikita Boasts Again

... 'U.S. Worn Out'

New Delhi, India (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev talked about the world's troubles with Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru Friday and then told 100,000 Indians the United States was a "worn out horse."

Khrushchev spoke to the big Indian crowd at Ram-lila Fair Grounds, with a capacity for 1,000,000 persons, using the same rostrum from which President Eisenhower spoke last December.

He boasted of Soviet might and technical successes and accused the West of keeping up the cold war.

Refers Directly To U.S.

Referring to the United States, Khrushchev commented: "As the saying goes, 'There was a horse but it is worn out' in the last 6 years the Soviet Union has increased her capita industrial output by 71%, whereas the United States has hardly registered any increase."

There was no official word on what Nehru and Khrushchev talked about from mid-morning through lunch, but informed sources said Nehru thoroughly laid down his complaints about communist China's border threats.

If Khrushchev tried to persuade Nehru to give in to China, he failed in his mission.

Nehru told the Indian Parliament shortly after the talks he had sent a new note on the border trouble to Peiping and he could see no basis yet for negotiations with the Chinese communists.

Won't Meet Chou Now

Informed sources said he told Khrushchev he would not meet with Chinese Premier Chou En-lai until certain preliminary conditions were met—presumably his demands that the Chinese pull back from the frontier.

COORS' CASE BREAK HOPED

Golden, Colo. (AP)—Speculation grew stronger Friday that a break is expected soon in the mystery veiling the disappearance of wealthy Adolph Coors III 3 days ago.

Coors' family and investigating officers are convinced the 44-year-old, 6-foot-3-inch executive was kidnapped, but no one will say whether anything has been heard from any abductors.

Friday's latest development came from the missing man's attractive wife, Mrs. Mary Grant Coors, mother of 4 children. She asked Sheriff Art Wermuth to withdraw all guards on duty at her ranch home, as well as men and equipment used to block side roads in the vicinity.

Close To Hills

The Coors home is close to the mountains near Morrison, a village 17 miles southwest of Denver.

"I am also requesting that no one interfere with any steps that might be taken to effect my husband's safe return," Mrs. Coors said.

Wermuth immediately withdrew his deputies from around the Coors residence. Scott Werner, FBI agent in charge of the federal investigation, declined comment when asked if his men had been withdrawn.

Werner will go no farther in discussing the case than to say, "we are still investigating."

Sheriff Wermuth, who is convinced that Coors is held as a hostage by kidnapers, said he looks for a break in the case soon.

Wahoo Family All 'Good Scouts'

By Gene Budig

Wahoo—When it comes to being "good scouts," the Gus A. Andersons are hard to beat.

Gus, recently cited for outstanding community service here, is in his 26th year with the Boy Scouts of America organization.

Under his alert direction, membership in the local scout troop has jumped from 10 members in 1951 to 115 today.

One of the community's biggest Girl Scout boosters is Mrs. Anderson, who also served as a Cub Scout den mother and sponsor.

Also coming into the picture are the younger Andersons—Roy, 13, and Rogene, 9. Nearly An Eagle

Five merit badges stand between Roy and his Eagle Scout badge, the highest scouting citation. Presently he holds the rank of a Life Scout.

Rogene is the newcomer to a scout group. She recently joined the Brownie organization.

"There's no doubt about it," Gus declared, "Scouting has made us a much better family as it has for many other American families."

The ambitious scoutman, a carpenter by trade, claimed, "I couldn't and wouldn't give up scouting. It's become a vital part of me."

Mrs. Anderson, who shares the same enthusiasm about scouting, estimates that her husband has put in nearly 4,000 hours as Wahoo scoutmaster since taking over in 1951.

"Usually Gus puts in 40 hours a month on the program and during the summer it's even more with the special camps and activities," she informed.

"Good Citizens" Anderson doesn't mind putting time into scouting, explaining that "seeing boys become good citizens is all the return I want."

He said that he first realized the importance of scouting while he was in charge of an Army personnel station during World War II.

"Many of our better soldiers were the ones who had some kind of Boy Scout training," he recalled.

Gus credits the growth of Wahoo scouting to the parents, whom he says have more than donated enough time and effort to the program.

Anderson is an alum of the 1924 Wahoo troop, advancing to the rank of First Class.

Jack Paar Spurns Peace Efforts

NBC OLIVE BRANCH IS BRUSHED ASIDE

...Comedian Plans Trip To Europe

By Cynthia Lowry

New York (AP)—Acid-tongued Jack Paar, center of many stormy television episodes, climaxed by his own angry walk-out Thursday night, Friday spurned all peacemaking efforts of the National Broadcasting Co.

"I am going to leave the country and go to Europe, maybe to the Mediterranean area where it's warm," said Paar at his home in suburban Bronxville.

Thousands of well-wishers sent him messages, many asking him to reconsider his announced decision to quit his show because NBC deleted one of his anecdotes Wednesday night. NBC said the story was in bad taste because it employed a double meaning involving "water closet," a British term for toilet. Paar said it was funny and "very innocent."

(The joke concerned an English woman who wrote to a Swiss schoolmaster inquiring whether a room she sought to rent had a W.C. The schoolmaster consulted a local clergyman, who said the initials stood for "Way-side Chapel." The schoolmaster wrote back that the W.C. was 9 miles from the house and open on Thursdays and Sundays.)

Wants To Stay In TV

He indicated he doesn't want to leave television forever, and hopes to carry out a commitment for 3 "spectaculars."

But he made it icily clear he is through with the "Jack Paar Show" on NBC, a program which has claimed as many as 6½ million late night viewers and advertising revenues of 15 million dollars a year.

Paar, who has boasted that he personally made the show one of NBC's top attractions, somewhat haggardly announced:

"I need a big long rest."

Interspersing his remarks with a few more sharp jabs at NBC, Paar added:

"I'm Very Tired"

"I'm very tired but I'm very relieved. There'll be no more crises, no more screaming, no more worrying whether guests are loaded, no more scenes which I never asked for anyway."

Paar slammed the door on all efforts of NBC to ease his pains.

Hardly had he stalked off the program last night—a scene witnessed across the country—before NBC was extending the olive branch. "It is NBC's hope that Jack Paar will reconsider his action and return to the program," a spokesman said. He repeated the assertion Friday.

Paar turned a deaf ear. He refused all phone calls from the network to his home and rejected what he said was a request from NBC's top-most executives to call upon him there. He identified these as Chairman Robert Sarnoff and President Robert Kintner.

Paar, obviously jittery, said he has had only 4 hours sleep in the last two nights. All he wants to do now, he said, is to go through with a previously scheduled physical checkup and take off for Europe as soon as possible.

Explosive Reaction

An explosion of public reaction erupted within minutes of Paar's startling departure and grew to even greater intensity Friday. It appeared to be thunderously in favor of Paar and against NBC.

The program was recorded on video tape before 300 persons in a studio some 3 hours before the 10:15 p.m. (CST) air time. Paar's announcement of his resignation 18 minutes after the start of the show drew cries of protest from the audience and cheers when he assailed NBC for censoring his yarn the night before.

Minutes after Paar's fade-out was shown on the air, the NBC switchboard in Rockefeller Center's RCA building was swamped with heated calls from Paar fans.

By 2:30 a.m. there had been 2,000 praising Paar and only 120 against him, according to the network.

Friday Western Union facilities were taxed with telegrams directed at NBC. Shortly after noon a Western Union spokesman said the total had reached more than 3,000.

No Plan To Cancel Show

NBC said it had no immediate plan to cancel the Paar show, which Paar himself always referred to as the "Tonight" program. This was its title in previous years.

Hunch Players Do Well On Randypaar

Bowie, Md. (AP)—Hunch players, who read the front pages, had a good thing going in the third race at Bowie Friday.

Randypaar, a 3-year-old chestnut filly named for television star Jack Paar's daughter, romped home a winner in the third and paid $15, $7.20 and 5.

Daddy Paar made news by quitting his high paying TV show at NBC after a dispute concerning censorship.

when conducted by Steve Allen.

An NBC spokesman repeated the network's hope that Paar would return for the Monday night show. If he does not, it was said, announcer Hugh Downs will act as master of ceremonies as he has in Paar's past absences, including Thursday night.

The spokesman said he was not immediately able to answer a question as to whether the network could sue Paar for breaking his contract. This was a pact reached last year and effective through 1962. It reportedly made Paar one of the highest paid figures in the television world.

Some estimates were that he received $500,000 a year but no exact figures were made public.

Paar said that in two and a half years as a network star he had not become financially independent and "I've got to get a job." His walkout "blew my whole retirement scheme," he said.

Tells Story

Capt. King, shocked and pleased by the news of his father, tells this story of the separation: "We all moved to Japan about 1938, where my father was a missionary for the Congregational Church. We were living in Tokyo in the spring of 1941 when my father felt that world tensions were such that we should leave the Orient."

"We went through the processing routine, taking inoculations, applying for visas to the U.S., and then we were notified that my father, who was a Korean national, could not get a passport because of U.S. immigration restrictions."

Better To Separate

"My parents decided that instead of all of us remaining in Japan, it was better to separate, so that the rest of us would not have to suffer the experiences which my father foresaw as happening in Japan."

"So we children and my mother returned to the United States. And of course the war started in December. "In 1954, when I had joined the Air Force, I had an overseas tour of duty in Tokyo. We had tried to locate my father after the war (WWII) but had no luck. When I returned to Japan, and to Tokyo, I continued the search."

Went Back

"I went back to our old neighborhood, but nobody remembered, and nobody knew of my father. I went to the site of our home, and there was a parking lot there then. I asked what had happened and they said the whole neighborhood had been destroyed by bombs during the war."

"That confirmed my belief that my father was dead, and although I asked the Tokyo police department to trace him from a description I gave, I abandoned my search."

"I was sent to Korea, but I never considered continuing my search there. I was sure he would still be in Japan. This is the first word I have heard of him since 1941."

Taught English

From the press dispatch. Capt. King learned that his father had taught English in Japanese schools until after World War II, and after the war had gone to Korea where he worked with the U.S. Military government.

Once Prof. King, whose Korean name was Cho Chung Woo, had served as a trouble shooter between South Korean troops and American forces.

Prof. King announced, after hearing that his family was still alive, announced that "first I will call my son Clarence in Cincinnati, then I'm going to go to the United States as soon as possible."

Capt. King, married and the father of two children, said he would welcome his father if he would visit Lincoln.

Hearing of his father's comment that he plans to continue to work to better understanding between America and Korea, Capt. King explained that, "that sounds like my father. He was a very dedicated man."

Other family members include two daughters, married, and living in Windsor, Canada, and Prof. King's wife, who had obtained a divorce, and is living in Key-stone Heights, Fla.

Traffic Disrupted

Traffic on Cornhusker Highway was disrupted for over an hour Friday afternoon when a semi-trailer truck jackknifed across the highway at about 2nd St. The truck driver, who was from Arkansas, was not injured, the Safety Patrol said.

Valentine's Cards Not Sentimental

By Stan Shiebert

"A loaf of bread, a jug of wine, And I don't need no Valentine."

This sentiment is uttered by a character reclining in an easy chair, who adorns one of the "contemporary" Valentine's Day greeting cards now on sale.

A "contemporary" card is one which subtly, or sometimes unsubtly, reverses the usual sentiments of the particular observance.

A lady who clearly does need what the first fellow did not, is one shown on another card praying by her bedside. The woman, of matronly years, says:

"I'm being as good as I possibly can, And hoping and praying for something . . . a man."

The card then shows her running madly after a disappearing male figure.

A card certain to make a wife feel good reads as follows:

"You're the most wonderful wife in the world . . . Of course my experience is limited."

For an uncle you could send a card like the one which is dedicated to "my very favorite relative . . . please forward to uncle Fred."

But, if you really love her, you will send her this one:

"Who's my apple-dumpling? Who's my sugar-plum? Who's my ginger-cookie? No, not you, you crumb."

2 Killed As Car Careens Into Crowd

St. Cloud, Minn. (UPI) — A car raced backwards out of control with a helpless, 85-year-old dentist at the wheel, smashed through a crowd at a busy downtown intersection, and killed two women Friday.

At least 5 more persons were injured when Dr. L. G. Gross' car jumped the curb and shot through the plate glass window of a Woolworth store.

Gross, uninjured, said the accelerator pedal on his car stuck when he tried to back it out from a parking place.

Authorities identified the dead as Mrs. John Kockler, 64, of suburban Wiate Park; and Mrs. Julia Michels, 60, St. Cloud. Mrs. Kockler died at the scene, and the other woman about two hours later in a hospital.

Frantic Chessman Challenges Law That Denied Him

San Francisco (AP)—Caryl Chessman's attorney Friday filed in U.S. District Court an attack on the constitutionality of a law under which Chessman has been denied an appeal. Chessman is scheduled to die in the San Quentin prison gas chamber next Friday.

Atty. George T. Davis also filed with Justice Hugo Black notification that he is challenging the constitutionality of the law.

Davis also asked a stay of Chessman's execution so the court may have time to rule on his challenge.

The attorney attacked the Feb. 8 decision of Chief Justice Richard H. Chambers of the U.S. District Court at Tucson, Ariz. Chambers denied Chessman a stay of execution and also denied him a certificate of probable cause.

The certificate of probable cause, if granted, would have permitted Chessman to appeal from a decision by U.S. Dist. Judge Louis E. Goodman in San Francisco Jan. 29 turning down Chessman's petition for habeas corpus.

Davis said this is the first time a federal statute has been challenged in the Chessman case.

Hope Flares In Capital's Grocery Strike

Washington (AP)—There was hope Friday for settlement of the capital area's grocery chain strike. But even if peace should come quickly, there was no chance the nearly 270 supermarkets would reopen before next week.

A survey by the Washington Star indicated the strike is costing at least one million dollars a day in retail sales and wages.

Meanwhile, householders in this city and suburban areas of Maryland and Virginia scoured independent grocers and delicatessens for their meats and other foods.

So far, there were no reports of anybody going hungry as a result of the 3-day strike of 1,400 meatcutters. But there was inconvenience aplenty as 6 big chains kept their stores closed.

British Avert Rail Walkout

London (AP)—A rail strike that threatened to cripple British Transport, including the vast London subway system, was called off Friday night after long negotiations between union and government officials. It had been scheduled to start Sunday midnight.

Mystery Moon 'Not Soviet's'

Havana (AP)—Anastas I. Mikoyan, Soviet first deputy premier, said a mystery satellite reported speeding through space was not put up by the Soviet Union.

Mikoyan also told newsmen at a reception that the Soviet Union is willing to supply war planes for Cuba.

4 INJURED IN 2-CAR MISHAP NEAR LINCOLN

Four persons were injured late Friday in a two-car accident 3.8 miles south of Lincoln on snow-packed Highway 77.

The Rev. John H. Reents, 58, of Adams, suffered head injuries and lacerations. His wife, Mildred, 50, sustained elbow lacerations and injuries to her back and right leg.

They were taken to a local hospital where they were reported in "good" condition.

Mrs. Alvina Feldhausen, 80, of Frankfort, Kan., suffered mouth cuts and chest injuries. Her grandson, Bruce, 6, suffered mouth cuts and an injured right jaw. They were treated and released at a Lincoln hospital.

Gerald Feldhausen, 51, also of Frankfort, Kan., driver of the second car, was not hurt.

The state highway patrol said that the Rev. Mr. Reents' car went out of control, slid and collided with the Feldhausen car.

Big 4 Ministers' 'April In Capital' Parley Expected

London (UPI)—The Western Big 4 foreign ministers are expected to meet some time in April in Washington to consolidate policy for the forthcoming summit conference, diplomatic sources said.

The foreign ministers of Canada and Italy also are likely to attend the meeting.

The Western powers have been holding consultations to prepare for the meeting, but little headway has been made, it was reported.

LAWYER SAYS:

Ship Romeo 'Lured' Girl Into Affair

... 'KILLED HER'

Boston (AP)—Dutch seafarer Willem Van Rie, the state claimed Friday, posed as a bachelor to lure pretty Lynn Kauffman into a sordid ship-board love affair that ended in her death.

"I said a lot to her, but I told her nothing," the handsome ship's radio operator was quoted as saying of his alleged illicit relationship with the vivacious 23-year old American divorcee.

The state also suggested cryptically that Lynn was not the only object of the 31-year old Van Rie's attention during their long voyage together last summer from the Orient.

'Dumped Over Rail'

As to Miss Kauffman's death, Asst. Dist. Atty. John F. McAuliffe told an all-male jury trying Van Rie for his life on first degree murder charges:

"This defendant beat this girl into helplessness and then he dumped her over the rail."

That was last Sept. 18 as Van Rie's ship, the Dutch freighter Utrecht, was leaving Boston on the last leg of her long journey from Singapore to New York. The girl's body, clad in Bermuda shorts and slippers, was found washed ashore next day on barren Spectacle Island in Boston harbor.

McAuliffe omitted any discussion of a motive in the alleged beating of Miss Kauffman. Authorities have said, however, the pair quarreled over Lynn's possible pregnancy. Medical examination after her death showed she was not pregnant.

A Homebody With Dimpled Chin: Morrison Outlines That's TV's Sleep Robber Paar 11-Phase Platform

New York (AP) — He's a homebody with a dimpled chin and shy smile. He exudes loyalty to his friends. But he has a rugged independence. And if crossed, he counter-punches with stinging impact.

That's Jack Paar, the whimsical maverick of television who walked out on his phenomenally successful show.

"I don't like to be pushed around," he has often said.

Paar is a generally self-effacing, soft-spoken man, with an overflowing generosity of sentiment, but his untrammeled candor and lancing repartee have landed him in frequent feuds, most of them based on the airwaves.

He'd fret and stew about them before his audience of millions. "Why do people have to fight? ... I'm not mad ... With a crease of brow and flutter hands, he can affect an artless quality of aggrieved innocence.

"I'm a worrier," he says.

Snaps Back
But he also could snap back with devastating pungency, if miffed by a caustic question or comment, or attacked by newspaper columnists. He insisted he had a right to talk back to the press in his own medium.

While his outspoken habit got him into occasional fuses, that same frankness and spontaneity has been one of the main fares of his show. The New York Times magazine once said of him:

"He is a remarkably sophisticated man, rather in the style of Will Rogers, with an acerbic wit oriented in the direction of the Midwest from which he sprang, and, of course, a gift for verbal improvisation that permits him to run on and on without boring people."

Paar is 42, 6 feet tall, with puckish good looks. "I'm not sexy," he says.

Tame Liver

In personal life, he is a thoroughly domesticated creature, shunning the night life of Broadway's so-called smart set.

Devoted to his wife and daughter, he likes to dig in his garden, read or tinker with mechanics at their red home in Bronxville, N.Y.

He professes to be an enormously timid man, frightened of crowds, easily depressed, uncertain about what to do next. As for his professional abilities, he says:

"I like to think of myself not as a comic but as a humorist. To me, a comic says funny things. A humorist thinks funny things."

His full name is Jack Harold Paar. He was born in Canton, Ohio, the son of a railroad division superintendent, and one of 3 children. The family successively lived in Jackson, Mich., and Detroit.

Once Stuttered
In boyhood, he cured himself of stuttering by putting buttons in his mouth and reading aloud. At 14, he contracted tuberculosis, and after his recovery, worked on a railroad gang to harden himself.

In high school he was a champion wrestler for a time. He left school at 16 for his first job, as a radio announcer on station WIBM in Jackson.

On his show, Paar often voiced some awe and envy at greater educational backgrounds of others, including his announcer, Hugh Downs. It was one of the running subjects of Paar's self-bellittlement.

In his early career, he broadcast from stations in Indianapolis, Youngstown, Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Buffalo, sometimes as a comic disc jockey. He was an enlisted man, entertaining fellow GI's in the South Pacific in World War II.

Many Fizzles

After appearing in a few Hollywood movies in the early 1950's, he moved into network television on a succession of shows, first with NBC, then with CBS and ABC. All of them fizzled.

"I've been fired from more jobs than anybody," he often quipped.

When NBC offered him the Tonight show in 1957, he told officials he had never seen it. "They were aghast," he said. "So I said to them I go to bed every night at 10 o'clock and get up at 6."

With Paar in the show it became a sensational success.

He's Modest?

The show was renamed "The Jack Paar Show" in 1958, but Paar, with implied modesty, still referred to it as the "Tonight" show.

He has pushed many of his guests into national prominence, including French singer Genevieve, writer Alexander King, Japanese-American singer Pat Suzuki and others. Once he took a liking to someone, he promoted them persistently.

Paar had one run-in with actor Mickey Rooney, who stalked off a show after Paar said he was "loaded." But the two later made up with mutual expressions of affection.

Another fuss with comedian Dody Goodman ended the same way.

"They always come back," an NBC spokesman said. "They can't stay mad at Paar. None of them has."

CARMICHAEL

Thone Praises Young GOP'ers

The work of Nebraska's Young Republican Federation was lauded here Friday by State Republican Chairman Charles Thone.

"The Nebraska Young GOP headed by Loran Schmit of David City has been doing a tremendous job of organizing all over the state for the 1960 campaign," Thone noted.

"In the last two weeks," Thone declared, "Young Republican organizations have been started in Cheyenne and Hall Counties and large meetings have been held in Dawson and Adams Counties."

...INCLUDING INTERSTATE VIEWS

Democratic gubernatorial candidate Frank Morrison of Lincoln Friday outlined a broad, 11-point platform, which included continued opposition to the construction of Interstate Route 3 through downtown Omaha.

While "cities are entitled to adequate access routes to the Interstate," Morrison said, he is opposed to "the routing of such traffic through the heart of metropolitan areas, thereby squandering our highway funds for expensive real estate acquisition rather than good roads."

Morrison, under intensive questioning by newsmen, declined to specifically say whether he would (if elected) take action to halt construction of Route 3.

Outstate First
Interstate construction should be "completed across the state" before considering Route 3 construction, he said.

Morrison also called for "an opportunity for the people of the city of Omaha to express themselves as to the financial burdens involved" in Route 3 construction.

The Democratic candidate also pointed to the possibility of altering the controversial route's function from that of routing traffic through the downtown area to that of providing an access connection to downtown Omaha.

Included in Morrison's platform: —agriculture: on the state level give a very high priority in its industrial development program to small and large industries that would process, package and merchandise the produce of our farms; nationally, unified action by Mid-west governors to seek expanded markets, industrial expansion in the use of farm products, use of surpluses as a weapon of peace, accelerated water and soil utilization, conservation, adequate credit.

—industry: the first aggressive campaign by a Nebraska governor to attract new industry.

—education: control at the local level; use of state and federal assistance in sharing some of the load in technical assistance and financing.

—efficiency in government, with possible savings up to $1.5 million annually.

Suspense Air Hangs Over Finch Trial

Los Angeles (UPI) — The murder trial of Dr. R. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregoff took a new air of suspense Friday while attorneys tried to decide whether the surgeon's red-haired mistress should testify in her own defense.

When the trial resumes Monday, Finch's attorney, Grant Cooper, will call only 3 more witnesses.

Then it will be Miss Tregoff's turn to defend herself against charges of murder and conspiracy to the murder of her lover's brunette wife, Barbara Jean Finch, last July 18.

Students Stage 'Passive Resistance' At Lunch Counter

RALEIGH COPS
ARREST THEM

Raleigh, N.C. (AP) — Raleigh police arrested 41 Negro students Friday on charges of trespassing on private property during demonstrations against segregated lunch counter service.

The North Carolina-born passive resistance movement also spread into South Carolina—thus into the heartland of the deep South's total segregation—and into a 9th North Carolina city. White spectators heckled the Negroes in each new location.

The arrests occurred in the Cameron village shopping center near the F. W. Woolworth Co. store. Virtually all of the Negroes are students at St. Augustine's College or Shaw University.

There is no law barring the peaceful demonstrations, as such. But the police explained that the shopping center is private property and when the demonstrations refused an official's request to leave the area they were arrested.

Malcolm L. Seawell, the state's outspoken attorney general, had informed merchants they could order arrests for trespassing, and that under state law they have the right to sell or refuse to sell to anyone.

In New York, Patrick Murphy Malin, executive director of the American Civil Liberties Union, objected to Seawell's statement. He wired Seawell:

"The statement attributed to you may be taken as a threat to prosecute the students for their legitimate assertion that under the 14th Amendment, as American citizens, they are entitled to equal treatment."

Seawell replied, "My statements with respect to the law in this state are none of your business."

"Lump It"
"I stand by what I have said. If you like it, well and good. If you do not like it, you may lump it."

White groups taunted the Negro demonstrators who appeared for the first time in Rock Hill, S.C. and Concord, N.C.

"They ought to throw them out," said one person among the crowds of whites watching the students at two variety stores and a drug store in Rock Hill. The lunch counters had closed after the students arrived.

"They should charge them a dollar and a half for coffee and when they won't pay, throw them out," suggested another.

Negro students politely excused themselves as they passed through the white crowds around Woolworth's and McCrory's variety stores and the Good Drug Store. The spectators were peaceful until a group of young white toughs arrived.

A group of white spectators gathered outside the store and some suggested belligerently that they go in and pull out the Negroes.

"Where are they from?" asked one of the spectators. "They're from Africa and that's where they should be right now," another replied.

Approval Given To 6 Schools ... By State Board

The accreditation of 6 privately-owned business and trade schools by the State Board of Education has been announced by Dr. Freeman B. Decker, state commissioner of education.

Accreditation of the private schools was authorized by the 1959 Legislature.

Schools receiving the nod of approval following inspection by representatives of the State Department of Education are:

Lincoln School of Commerce, and the National Business Institute, both located in Lincoln; and the Commercial Extension School of Commerce, Personnel Training Division of E. R. T. I., Radio Engineering Institute, Inc., and Universal Trades School, all in Omaha.

Accreditation is contingent upon the strict compliance of each institution with criteria enumerated in the 1959 law.

2 Lincoln Homes Guttered By Flames

Fires completely gutted the interiors of two Lincoln homes Friday morning and wiped out all the belongings of the occupants.

Mrs. Margaret Sharp of 450 No. Burlington Ave. in Lakeview suffered first and second degree burns on her right hand and arm when fire swept her one-story frame home.

Mrs. Sharp, 24, was treated at a local hospital for the burns and for a head cut which required 5 stitches to close. Dep. Sheriff Glenn Allen said Mrs. Sharp was struck during an argument after the fire had been discovered about 8 a.m.

Mrs. Sharp was released after hospital treatment. Her husband, Miles, 35, who carried their sons — ages 2 and 3 — to safety, was hospitalized for observation at the Veteran's Hospital, Allen said.

Allen said all the clothing and personal effects of the Sharp family was lost in the blaze. Mrs. Sharp and the two boys, he said, will stay with her sister and brother-in-law.

The 3-room house, located at 3317 No. 52nd, was the scene of a mattress fire about 10:30 p.m. Thursday and police said Lundberg moved out after this blaze and spent the night in a hotel.

About 5 a.m. the house was seen in flames and firemen were unable to save any of its contents. The cause of the two fires at the Lundberg home was not determined.

He was associated with the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad for 50 years, commencing his career with the road as a station helper at Syracuse, Neb., in 1897.

He became assistant to the road's executive vice president. In 1936 he was assigned as management member and chairman of Division 1 of the Railroad Adjustment Board. He retired in 1947.

Beer Keg Theft Admitted By Hastings Youths Here

Hastings youths pleaded guilty Friday to theft of 7½ kegs of beer from a railroad car at Hastings Jan. 24 and were placed on probation under terms which U.S. District Judge Robert Van Pelt described as "quite severe."

Adjudged guilty of felonious theft of an interstate shipment were Delmer Flood, 18; Richard Bauld, 18; Howard Browning, 18; and brothers John Krieger, 19, and James Krieger, 21.

William Spooner, now 18 but 17 at the time of the beer theft, was adjudged a juvenile delinquent.

On Probation
Five youths, adjudged under the Federal Youth Corrections Act, were placed on probation until Oct. 1, 1962, the date "which the youngest will have become 21."

Spoooner's probation under the juvenile delinquency act is indeterminate or until he becomes 21 (Feb. 3, 1963).

In laying down terms of probation for the six, Judge Van Pelt forbade James Krieger from associating with his younger brother.

"You are not a good influence on him," the judge said to James, who had acknowledged previous offenses and a discharge from the Army under terms other than honorable.

Judge's Order
Spooner, Flood, Bauld and John Krieger are not to associate with either James Krieger or Browning, and must not associate with each other in groups larger than two at a time, the judge ordered.

All must observe a 9:30 p.m. curfew nightly except Friday and Saturday when the curfew hour will be midnight. Every Sunday each youth must prepare a written report of his Friday and Saturday night activities.

The judge ordered no drinking by any of the probationers, who also were prohibited from hanging around taverns or places where alcoholic beverages are sold.

Newsom Calls Special Wheat Committee Meet

By Glenn Kreuscher
Staff Farm Writer

An emergency meeting of the National Grange Wheat Advisory Committee has been called.

According to Herschel D. Newsom, master of the National Grange, the special meeting will be held Feb. 22 at the Grange headquarters in Washington, D.C.

In a statement Newsom said, "The President has apparently opened the door to the possibility for constructive modification of farm legislation."

"The President has indicated a willingness to consider modifications involving more than adjustments in the price levels at which government stands ready to take off the market — through either purchases or non-recourse loans — commodities not absorbed by the market at some predetermined price level."

"It would seem especially clear that he has opened the door to realistic and constructive modifications of the wheat program."

"It, therefore, becomes a

do unto others

... The Golden Rule. And what a world this would be if men would only live it! There would be no more necessity for preaching and the jails could rot down. Observance of the "Golden Rule" would bring in the Age of Gold. Hillel, the Jewish lawyer, called it "the whole law." Leo Tolstoy, "discovered those clear simple truths," gave up a most successful profession and spent the rest of his life crusading for the welfare and understanding of his fellows.

"Do Unto Others," was made more Golden by the American Indian when in his memorable words, he counsels us to travel "A moon in his moccasins," before we criticize another. The Golden Rule carries the secret of a good society... A Democratic society. But don't forget the man who uttered the rule in the Gospels. That makes it different. His message includes the parable of the Good Samaritan and of the Last Judgment... feed the hungry, clothe the naked and remember the man in jail. It all boils down to a most significant question... "Will you keep it in good conscience?" In your home, your business, your social affairs, will you "DO UNTO OTHERS AS YOU WOULD BE DONE BY?"

More on the Golden Rule next week.

Rest Of State $ To Work

...Larsen Reports

State Treasurer Richard Larsen said Friday that he will withdraw the remainder of the state's idle funds from banks over the state next week for investment in U.S. securities.

Approximately $1.1 million is still on deposit in 61 banks throughout the state. A total of some $4.5 million was on deposit in 191 banks when Larsen began withdrawing the funds last summer.

Withdrawal of the remaining idle funds will mark the end of a practice begun in 1935.

Various Banks

Prior to the mid-30's, the state deposited its so-called idle funds in banks over the state and collected interest on the deposits.

The interest law was repealed in 1935, and the money was placed in the banks on a demand basis. Banks have had to put up collateral of 10% in order to receive the state deposits, however.

Within a few months after the first funds were withdrawn and invested in interest-bearing securities last year, Larsen estimated the return at approximately $550,000.

Stranathan To Head Express 100 Year Run

Robert B. Conrad, president of the Nebraska Pony Express Centennial Committee, has announced the appointment of Harold C. Stranathan of Lincoln as head of the operations of the Pony Express re-run across Nebraska.

The re-running of the Pony Express is scheduled for July 19-28 by the National Pony Express Centennial Committee.

Stranathan in undertaking the organization of the Nebraska portion of the ride will be aided by the Lancaster County Sheriff's Posse.

The Nebraska portion of the route, approximately 450 miles, will be covered July 20-22 westbound from St. Joseph, Mo., and July 26-28 eastbound.

Trail Map Stated

Stranathan said he would use a new study of the trail made by Paul Henderson of Bridgeport and L. C. Bishop of Wyoming, and with assistance from the Nebraska State Historical Society and the State Highway Department, a map following the Pony Express route as nearly as possible on existing roads will be ready soon.

The ride through different parts of the state, will be made by riders from the locality working in an organization set up through horse clubs.

A meeting of the National Pony Express Centennial Committee is scheduled for North Platte March 17 and 18.

Members of the Nebraska Committee are: Conrad, Warren C. Wood of Gering, Paul Jenkins of Gothenburg, Charles C. Osborne of Hastings, Merrill L. Mattes of Omaha and James C. Olson and W. D. Aeschbacher, both of Lincoln.

Presby Chapel Speaker Is Rev. J. Swearingin

The Rev. John Swearingin will deliver the sermon at the 11 a.m. Sunday service at the Presby House Chapel, 333 No. 14th.

The Rev. Mr. Swearingin is associate pastor at the First Presbyterian Church in Omaha and president of the trustees of the Westminster Foundation Board of the Synod of Nebraska.

Omaha Police Chief Is Authorized To Request Force Addition Of 21

Omaha (AP) — Mayor John Rosenblatt Friday authorized Police Chief C. Harold Ostler to ask for 21 new policemen. Authorization came at a meeting of the mayor and top police officials to discuss police action in the strike against Wilson and Co.

The chief ordered assignment of two more officers to strike duty, bringing the total to 31.

Meanwhile, police were investigating circumstances surrounding the damage by vandals of 3 trucks in South Omaha Thursday night.

Members of the truck crew said that so far as they knew their employer, the Laramie, Wyo., Feed and Trucking Co., had no business with Wilson and Co.

Windshield and headlamps of the truck were smashed and sugar was poured in gasoline tanks.

Police were also probing two other reports of vandalism to trucks in the same neighborhood.

Omaha's District Court judges have rejected the request of State Sen. Jack Romans of Ord that a grand jury be called to investigate the work of the Omaha Police with the strike.

Romans had written the judges that acts of violence in Omaha were of such character as to justify a grand jury.

The reply of the Omaha judges was sent to Romans by Presiding Judge Patrick W. Lynch and was, the judge said, a one paragraph letter.

"Mr. Romans asked if circumstances warranted a grand jury. I told him I had discussed it with other judges and that my opinion was negative," Judge Lynch later commented.

Officers Nab Man Wanted In Rape Case

By The Associated Press

Des Moines, Iowa, police Friday captured Kenneth Reeder, 27, Cedar Rapids, Ia., wanted in Omaha in connection with rape and robbery of a 25-year-old woman.

Police surrounded the Des Moines Greyhound Bus station where they were warned Reeder was on the bus and armed.

Not Armed

They said Reeder was not armed and offered no resistance but several guns were found in his baggage.

Omaha police said the woman who was attacked in her South Omaha apartment about 1 a.m. Friday reported she was awakened by a man sitting on her bed. She said he drew a gun, assaulted her and fled with about $20 after ransacking her apartment.

Several residents of the apartment house where the woman, a divorcee, lived, said they heard the man tell a cab dispatcher on the phone he wanted to go to a bus depot.

Officers checked the depot and learned a man resembling Reeder had left for Cedar Rapids.

Sioux City, Ia., authorities said they want to question Reeder about a burglary.

Omaha police said Reeder was released from the Iowa Men's Reformatory Feb. 3 after serving time on a check charge.

Reeder denied the Omaha charges when questioned by Omaha police but signed extradition papers for his return to Omaha.

Bad Effects Of Federal Aid Told By Ex-Sen. Bixler

North Platte (UPI) — Federal aid has had an adverse effect on the "entire operation of our livelihood," former state Sen. J. Monroe Bixler, Harrison, said.

"We have handled our own affairs in the past without federal aid," Bixler said. "I think 75% of all the federal aid programs could be cut out entirely."

Bixler, a candidate for the Republican nomination for congressman in the 4th district, criticized agricultural aid programs, such as the storing of grain by the government.

Federal aid to education also came in for criticism.

"We have to subsidize the southern states' educational program when that's their own responsibility," Bixler said.

He addressed the Southwest Nebraska County Officials' conference here.

Non-Profit Group Offering To Buy City Auditorium

Sidney (UPI) — A non-profit corporation, Fidelity, Inc., of Sidney, has offered to buy the city auditorium here for $50,000.

The building would be converted into an Elks Lodge and would remain available for public meets, Chuck Lefler, spokesman for Fidelity, said.

The building has been rarely used in recent years.

Abker To Bruning

Bruning—Larry Abker has been hired as superintendent of the Bruning schools for the coming year, the board of education announced. He is presently serving as principal of the Bradshaw school system.

Responsibility Of School Absences 'Up To Parents'

Alma (AP) — Alma school officials will no more play the role of truant officer.

Hereafter when school is skipped, the student will have to square himself with his parents instead of explaining the absence to school authorities.

"We want the children here and surely the parents do," said Wayne M. Pierson, Alma superintendent. "In fact, each parent knows his child has to be in school. Now it is up to the parent to make certain his child is in school."

Give, Take Spirit Needed In Farm Problem—Curtis

Franklin (AP) — Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb.) said Friday night the nation's farm problem must be met "in the spirit of give and take."

"This means that the competing farm organizations, both Democrats and Republicans in Congress and the President must take cognizance of the fact that the farmer is not receiving his just share of the national income," said Curtis.

The senator's remarks were delivered at a Republican fund raising dinner. Curtis is seeking re-election.

He declared the program proposed by the National Wheat Growers Assn. needs a fair trial. "Wheat growers in Nebraska tell me it would lessen our surpluses of wheat and at the same time increase the income of the farmers."

County, City Funds Should Be Invested

Scottsbluff (AP) — State Senator Terry Carpenter charged Friday night that between the city of Scottsbluff and Scotts Bluff County $7,000 a month in potential income is being permitted to slip away.

Carpenter says the county has $1.5 million on deposit with banks in the county and the city has $250,000, none of which is earning interest.

Said Carpenter, "hard pressed as we are for tax revenue, we should consider investing all of these funds in 90 day government notes that bear 5% interest."

He said the banks where the money is deposited are investing it in the notes and earning the interest.

The senator said the same situation exists all over the state. He said Lincoln has $5 million on deposit, Grand Island $2.5 million and North Platte $1.5 million, none of which is returning anything.

Shoveling Snow Fatal To Omahan

Omaha — Funeral services for Gerald V. Cahow, 55, who suffered a fatal heart attack while shoveling snow at his home, will be at 11 a.m. Saturday at the Crosby-Kunold Farnam Street Mortuary here. He was manager of the Omaha branch of the Chicago Lumber Co.

Surviving are his wife, Edith; daughter, Mrs. Patsy Murray; and two granddaughters, all of Omaha; and his mother, Mrs. Laura Cahow of Chapman.

Beatrice Flier To Receive DFC For Saving Crew

Wichita, Kan. (UPI) — Capt. James D. Diamantopole, Beatrice, Neb., Saturday will receive a Distinguished Flying Cross for saving 5 crew members and a B-47 plane after a jet engine exploded in the air last Sept. 17.

Diamantopole, an instructor-pilot, was credited with "heroic action" in the nighttime incident which occurred while the craft was being refueled by tanker. A jet engine on the left wing caught fire and exploded. The engine tore loose from its mounting but left the wing afloat.

Diamantopole shut down all fuel and the hydraulic system to that wing, prepared the crew for quick bailouts, and then flew the plane to Bergstrom Air Force Base, Texas, where he made a safe landing.

Cold, Cloudy And Snowy Describes January 1960

January was a cold, cloudy and snowy month, bringing hardships to cattle feeders, the U.S. Weather Bureau in Lincoln reports.

Average temperatures ranged from slightly above requirements increased sharply. Feeding operations were difficult because of drifted snow.

The current feed supply was expected to be adequate for the remaining season, but local shortages are developing and prices of hay reflect a strong demand.

Cattle and calves are wintering in good condition with about the usual seasonal shrink. Heavy supplemental feeding offset the effects of unfavorable weather, and death losses thus far have been slight. Calving operations are just beginning and should be in full swing shortly.

Nebraska News

The long-term mean in the extreme west to about 7 degrees below the average in the extreme south-central part of Nebraska.

The State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics reported grazing was limited, and supplemental feed required.

Simmons Says His Wilson Position Fair

Lincoln Star Special
Fremont — Sen. Ray Simmons of Fremont said Friday night that the positions he has taken in connection with the Wilson strike are those which he believes "any fair-minded person would support," and that they do not make him "anti-labor."

Simmons made the statement in answer to charges against him from Nels Petersen, secretary of the Nebraska AFL-CIO, who accused Simmons of "trying to make political hay" from the Wilson strike and with being "anti-labor from the beginning."

"Apparently Mr. Petersen is one of those union leaders who does 'not condone' union abuses, but, no matter how bad they become, takes no effective action, and then shouts 'anti-labor' at anyone who does try to stop these practices," said Simmons.

"The positions I have taken are those which I think any fair-minded person would support. Such does not make me 'anti-labor.' I merely think that union leaders should follow the same rules of fair play that are required of any other group in society," he continued.

Fair Play
"Under Mr. Petersen's definition of 'anti-labor,' I suspect a large percentage of union members themselves, who believe in fair play, would be considered 'anti-labor,'" the Fremont senator said.

Petersen also had said that if Simmons "was really against violence, he would join us in opposing the importation of strike-breakers from various states."

Simmons replied, "these 'strikebreakers' are Wilson employees who are working while the strike goes on. Mr. Petersen has not indicated any violation of law by them. It is the property and persons of these employees which has been attacked."

"Mr. Petersen in his statement criticizes the victims of this violation, but says nothing against the perpetrators of the violence. That is certainly an unusual approach to the problem of lawbreaking," Simmons declared.

STORK MAKES EARLY VISIT TO WATIPKES

Most small children are a constant source of anxiety to their parents, but young LaVerne Josephine Watipke began rather early.

The 6-day-old girl was scheduled to make her appearance at St. Elizabeth Hospital, just as did her older twin brothers.

But her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Watipke of Ceresco, reckoned without an over-anxious stork and the baby was born about 4:30 a.m. Sunday in the car enroute to Lincoln.

However, mother and daughter (and father) are doing fine and all went home to their Cresco farm Friday.

PRETTY VALENTINES

MISS BARBARA JO JORGENSEN

Announcement is made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Jorgensen of the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Jo, to Donald G. Wenzl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wenzl. A June 25 wedding is planned.

The bride-elect is a senior at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Delta Gamma sorority.

Mr. Wenzl, who is also a senior at the University of Nebraska, is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

Judith Adams To Wed

Of particular interest to town and campus this morning is, the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Adams of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Judith Marian, to George Woods Haecker, Jr., son of Mrs. George W. Haecker and the late Mr. Haecker. The wedding will take place at 4 o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church the afternoon of Wednesday, Feb. 17.

Miss Adams has attended the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. This year she has been a student at the University of Arizona. Mr. Haecker is attending the University of Nebraska and is a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity.

MISS ELOYCE JANINE WARP

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Warp of Minden make announcement of the engagement of their daughter, Eloyce Janine, to Charles Keith Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Smith of Aurora.

Miss Warp was graduated from Colorado Woman's College, Denver, Colo., and is a junior at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Chi Omega sorority.

Mr. Smith was graduated in January from the University of Nebraska where he was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the United States Army. He is a member of Alpha Gamma Sigma fraternity.

MISS DOROTHY MARGARET HALL

The engagement of Miss Dorothy Margaret Hall, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William E. Hall, to Ronald William Schafer, son of Mr.

and Mrs. William Schafer of Tecumseh is announced this morning by the bride-elect's parents.

Miss Hall is a senior at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, and Delta Gamma sorority.

Her fiancé is a senior in the University of Nebraska College of Engineering.

MISS SALLY MARGARET DOWNS

This morning Mr. and Mrs. C. Marvyn Downs make announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sally Margaret, to Donald N. Binder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick M. Binder of Kearney. The wedding is planned for Saturday, June 4. Miss Downs is a senior at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Mortar Board and Alpha Phi sorority.

Her fiancé also will be graduated in June from the University of Nebraska, and is a member of Theta Xi fraternity.

Prenuptial Courtesy

In prenuptial courtesy to Miss Jean Vojraska and William Weygint, whose marriage will be solemnized on Saturday, the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weygint, presided at dinner Friday evening at Town and Country. The guest list included members of the families and the bridal party.

Contract Bridge

You are dealer, neither side vulnerable, and have opened One Heart. Partner has responded One No-trump. What would you now bid with each of the following four hands?

1. ♠K3 ♥AJ642 ♦A73 ♣KJ5
2. ♠KQ75 ♥AKS73 ♦— ♣KQ94
3. ♠6 ♥AQJ854 ♦A973 ♣AK
4. ♠9 ♥AK652 ♦K74 ♣AJ53

1. Pass. Before referring to the question of the rebid after partner has responded with one no-trump, it might be best first to consider what is meant by the no-trump response. Ordinarily, the responder will have a balanced hand that includes 6 to 9 points in high cards.

Starting with this as a base, it becomes clear that a game is not likely to be made with this hand. While it is true that partner may have 9 points, which would give us a total of 25 points in the combined hands, even this optimistic view brings us a point short of the 26 usually required for game. And since partner may also have 8, 7, or 6 points, any advance beyond one no-trump is bound to jeopardize the part score that is likely to be made by passing.

There is no good reason to think that two hearts will be easier to make than one no-trump. A pass is therefore in order.

2. Two spades. This rebid, being a reverse, shows a strong hand and urges partner to bid again. When two touching suits are bid in reverse order (that is, when the lower ranking suit is named first) the opener shows at least a 17-point hand. The intention is to go to game if partner supports hearts or spades, and to bid three clubs if partner's rebid is two no-trump.

3. Four hearts. The important point is to avoid jumping to three hearts. This rebid would urge partner to bid again, but would only invite, not compel, him to do so. Our hand is strong enough to warrant a game undertaking once partner has voluntarily responded. It would be highly pessimistic to assume that the defense is likely to garner four tricks against a four heart contract. Partner should not be given the option of playing under a game contract.

4. Two clubs. Despite the difference in quality of our two suits, the clubs should nevertheless be mentioned. Game is quite unlikely when partner shows a 6 to 9 point hand, and the best part score contract becomes the main issue.

If partner prefers clubs to hearts, club will very likely be the best trump suit to play in. Thus if partner has two hearts (for one) and four clubs, clubs is the better trump suit. Partner should be offered the choice.

MISS GAIL ANN PARKER

Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Parker of Hebron announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Gail Ann, to William Benton Elfeldt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn A. Elfeldt of Sutherland.

The wedding will be an event of Sunday, June 12. A graduate of Cottey College in Nevada, Mo., Miss Parker will be graduated in June from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Delta Gamma sorority.

Mr. Elfeldt is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity. In September he will enter the University of Nebraska College of Medicine in Omaha.

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to marry a widower and we are planning the wedding. This is my first marriage. My fiancé wants to invite his deceased wife's mother to our wedding. He says she'll feel hurt if she's not invited. Frankly, I don't want her there. I'm afraid she'll cry and turn a happy occasion into a sad one. Her daughter has been dead over two years and left two little children. If I am wrong, Abby, please tell me.

BRIDE-TO-BE

DEAR BRIDE-TO-BE: You are wrong. Your fiancé's mother-in-law will always be "Grandma" to his first two children. You can't expect him to shut her out of his life. If you refuse to invite her, you'll be starting down the aisle on the wrong foot.

DEAR ABBY: I am just plain sick of rassing around in a car after a date. I really can't figure out what I do that makes boys think I am that kind of girl. My girl friends say the same thing happens to them. How do girls get boys to respect them?

LINDA

DEAR LINDA: Some boys will try to break down the resistance of girls who have the best reputations. (It's some sort of a challenge.) Girls gain the respect of boys by making it plain that they will not be talked into (or out of) anything.

DEAR ABBY: What would you do in my case? I pick up three people on my way to work five days a week, nine and a half months of the year. All I ever get is "Thanks". They would each have to pay a dollar if they took a taxi. I've done this for three years. Don't you think they should offer something toward the gas and oil? I'd be satisfied with ten cents a trip. I drive anyway. My husband says either I should ask them to pitch in or quit griping about it. What is your opinion?

THE NUT BEHIND THE WHEEL

DEAR NUT: I can't give you any better advice than your husband's. Take it.

DEAR ABBY: Maybe if I sound off about this, I'll feel better. Why is it when you meet a stranger and they ask you what you do, women will say, apologetically, "I'm only a housewife." What do they mean "ONLY"?

I have worked in an office, jerked sodas, clerked in the five and dime and shucked corn for a living, and let me tell you that my present job ("only a housewife") is a lot tougher than any other job I've had.

I get up at 5:30 a.m. and fix breakfast for six. I do a mountain of laundry which I also iron. I pack 3 lunches, referee about 19 back yard fights, get supper and do the dishes. Yes, I know Grandma did all this without modern conveniences. But she had a house with 14 rooms, and most women today live in matchboxes, and when somebody drops a shoe in the living room, the house is a mess. I hope you print this, Abby. I feel better already.

Irene Uehling, Bride On Friday Chapel Wedding

MRS. CHRISTIAN BOSSE ALEXANDER

At a 7:30 o'clock ceremony on Friday evening, Feb. 12, the marriage of Miss Irene Grace Uehling, daughter of Emil Martin Uehling, to Christian Bosse Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alexander of Plainview, was solemnized at the First Presbyterian Church. The lines of the service were read by Dr. C. Vin White, and Miss Grace Finch, organist played the wedding music. Miss Genevieve Palmquist of Oakland was the vocal soloist.

Jon Alexander served his father as best man, and seating the guests were Deane H. Pettett, Gary Pettett and Gerald Severson.

For her wedding the bride chose a frock of self-embroidered silk in the St. Laurent blue tone. Designed with a cameo neckline and brief sleeves, the sheath extended to daytime length. Completing the ensemble was a matching waist-length jacket fashioned with a deep capelet neckline and bracelet length sleeves. Her costume was completed with a coif heavily appliqued with frock-toned forget-me-nots, and bowed in velvet. Pinned to her shoulder was a corsage of white orchids.

Mr. Alexander and his bride will reside at 2839 So. 34th St.

The bride is a graduate of the Lincoln General Hospital School of Nursing, and is a member of the Nebraska Third District Nurses' Association, and the American Nurses' Association. She also is a member of Epsilon Sigma Alpha, business girls sorority. Mr. Alexander attended Southern State College at Springfield, S.D.

At a candlelight service on Friday evening, Feb. 12, Miss Mary Jane Philpot, daughter of Mrs. Sam Philpot and the late Mr. Philpot, became the bride of Thomas Ludwig Gartner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Gartner. The 7 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. William B. Gould at the University of Nebraska Presbyterian Student Chapel.

Wearing Valentine red velvet in the daytime length were Miss Sheri Philpot, who was her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaid, Miss Rosemary Eitel, Kansas City, who carried hearts of white carnations and red rosebuds.

Long, fitted sleeves and a petal collar accented the Rosepoint lace bodice of the bride's princess gown. The floor-length skirt of peau de soie flared to hemline width, and a pearl-trimmed pillbox cap of silk held her illusion veil. She carried white hyacinth florets and red roses.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Kansas City School of Dental Hygiene, and Mr. Gartner is attending the University of Nebraska.

BSP Queen Named

Revealed as the Beta Sigma Phi Queen of Beta Sigma Phi sorority for young business women, Miss Woolman was selected by vote of the sorority members during the dance.

KIMBERLY HEIGHTS

The Wa Tan Ka Camp Fire Girls entertained friends at a Valentine party on Friday evening at the home of Miss Cheri Gorham. Members of the group, all sixth grades at Hartley School, were in complete charge of planning and executing the decorations, and dessert menu.

Also present for the affair were the girls' leader, Mrs. Arlin Van Beek, and her assistant, Mrs. Robert Gorham.

KIMBALLCREST

Just returned from a two-week vacation in the south are Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Weigandt. The Weigandt couple visited their son-in-law and daughter, Lt. Col. and Mrs. J. L. Solomon and their three children, at Robins Air Force Base near Macon, Ga., and then the two families motored to St. Augustine and Silver Springs, Fla., for a short holiday.

Incidentally, you might remember that the Solomon youngsters were the 1958 March of Dimes poster children.

PARK MANOR

Hear that Mrs. Donald R. Bergmann entertained the members of her bridge eight-some at an afternoon party on Wednesday, which only goes to indicate the extraordinary fascination this particular card game holds for people. If you'll remember, Wednesday found a goodly number of the Lincoln population snowbound.

A guest on hand for the dessert luncheon and card party was Mrs. George Binger.

Southeast Trips Pius X Despite Gaughan Effort

Underdogs Get 48-44 Setback

By Paul LeBar

Pius chipped Southeast's armor but emerged a 48-44 loser on the Knights' floor Friday night. Rotund Joe Gaughan, a cherubic 5-7 guard, hustled Coach Jim Kubacki's underdogs to a near upset. Gaughan's long casting hauled the Thunderbolts back into the issue following a drab first half.

Pius trailed for good following Denny Puelz' archer making it 8-7 with 41 seconds left in the opening round.

The east-side quint looked bad while skidding to a 24-15 halftime deficit.

But Gaughan, subbing for regular Tom Neal, kindled latent fires with snappy footwork and incessant bombing over the final terms.

Cut 2 Points

Teammates Mike Merwick, Chuck Rohren and Ed Regeleau collaborated to melt two points off the Southeast bulge as the 3rd period opened.

John Bohaty's looper on the baseline made it 29-24 midway through the canto. It was 29-26 when the rangy Regeleau registered via a jump.

Junior Jack Cramer and Keith Sieck held the Knights together, Sieck's tip-in opening a 36-29 gap again in the final 7 seconds.

Nearly Done

Pius could have been through when Puelz strung another bucket to establish a 38-31 Southeast lead with 7:20 remaining.

Asking no quarter, the Thunderbolts threatened at 38-42 via Merwick and Bohaty at the line. Gaughan's set shot with 4:49 left prompted a celebration.

Jeff Roberts and Cramer wedged a 46-40 bulge for Southeast, but Gaughan again and Bohaty rescued Pius with a field goal and two gifters.

Last Points

The latter pair, with 2:05 to go, made it 46-44 and represented Pius' last points.

Regeleau and Rohren both muffed chances at the bucket in the final 20 seconds.

Southeast Repeats City Swim Crown

... 5 Records Toppled In Sparkling Show

Lincoln Southeast used strength in individual events to score a narrow repeat victory in the City Swim Meet Friday night.

Four records were tumbled in the sparkling show, and another set in a new event.

Lose Relays

The defending state champion Knights hit by flu during the week, gave up both relays to Lincoln High, but still edged the Links, 73-67. Northeast trailed with 28.

Top event of the night was the 100 yard backstroke, where Ron Bauers of Lincoln High snapped the old mark by nearly 4 seconds, Pressed hard by NE's Bob Ferrell and Dave Frank of Southeast, Bauers churned the distance in 1:02.7. The old record, held by Bob's brother Larry Ferrell, was 1:06.6.

Bauer's time was two full seconds below the existing state meet record.

Lincoln also went below two other state marks. Bill Fowles bettered his own mark in winning the 100 butterfly in 58.1, also setting a city standard.

GI Beats Norfolk, Wins East Big 10

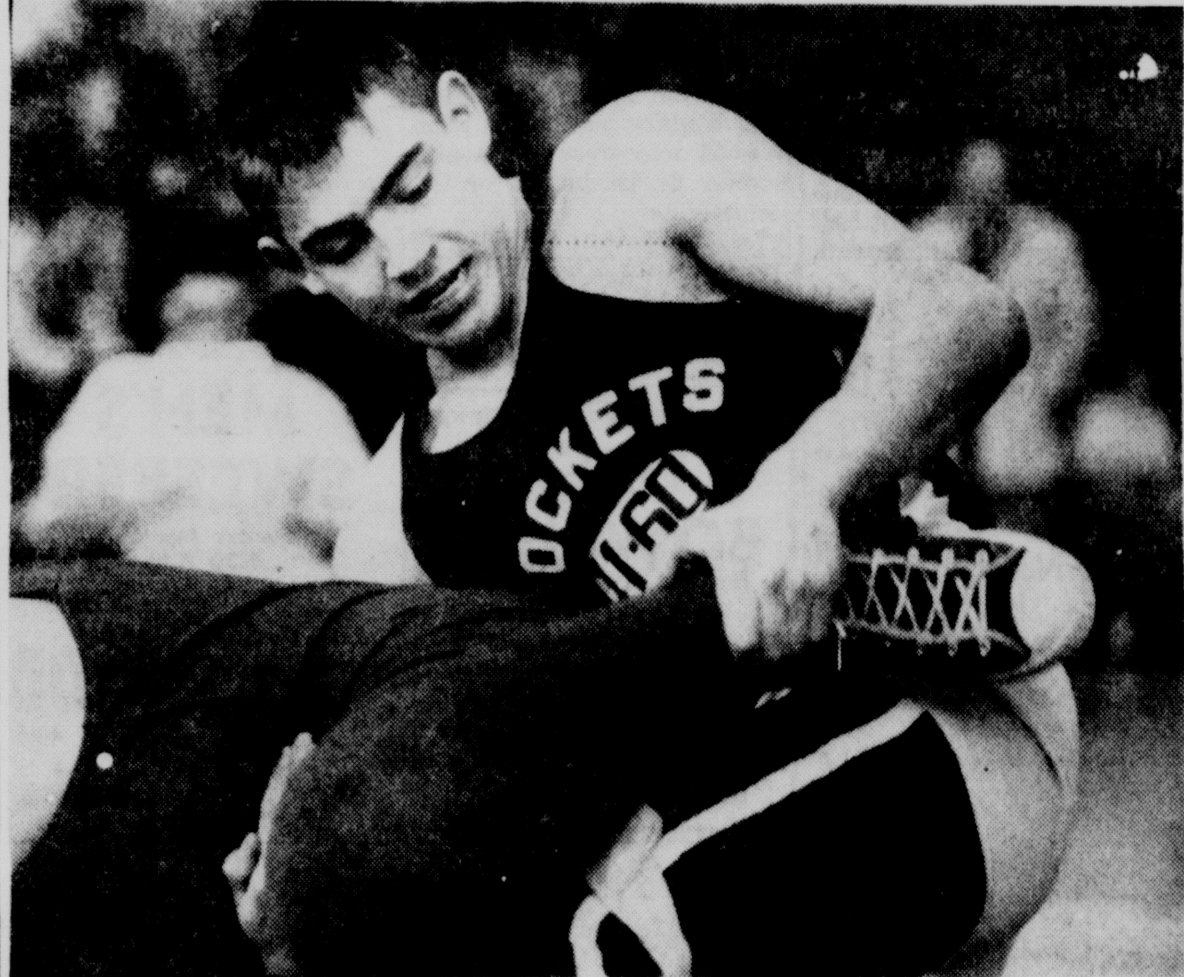

Grand Island—Grand Island sewed up the East Big 10 basketball title with a near miss 61-60 win over Norfolk Friday night.

A savage rally by the Panthers tied the game at 60-60, but a foul right at the buzzer gave GI its margin. Larry Willis potted the deciding gerry after time had run out.

Pat Fisher and Bud Bettin each scored 17 for Norfolk. Jack Juel paced the Islanders with 24 points.

Norfolk: 10 15 18 17—60. Grand Island: 13 22 17 9—61. Winners high—Jack Juel, 24. Losers high—Pat Fisher, Bud Bettin, 18.

Big 10 Conference champion Grand Island scored a narrow victory in the District 2 wrestling tournament here Friday, barely edging the 3 Lincoln public schools.

The Islanders and the 3 Capital City schools each won 3 championships. But Grand Island came up with the most points (94), and the most qualifiers (9).

Lincoln Northeast gained second spot with 88 points and the competition was so close for top places that Lincoln High and Lincoln South-

McWilliams pinned all 3 foes in quick time in taking the title.

Terry Leads
The Islanders were led by Tom Terry, the state 112 pound champ last year, who won the 127 pound title, scoring pins in his first two matches.

Bud Ottman of the Islanders, state 103 king now in the 120 pound division, also won the crown.

Only one pin was registered in the championship finals,

Two strokes back were 3 tournament veterans—Jack Fleck, Lionel Hebert, and Doug Ford.

Northeast Outside, Inside Duo Rips Beatrice, 66-47

... Marple, Witherby Pep Rockets To Mid-East Lead

By Al Beebe

Jim Marple was "Mr. Outside" and Jerry Witherby "Mr. Inside" as Lincoln Northeast racked up an easy 66-47 triumph over Beatrice here Friday night.

The win boosted the Rockets into the Mid-East Conference lead with a 2-1 mark.

Fremont Next

Beatrice is now 1-1. For the season, NE upped its to 7-5 with a date at Fremont tonight.

Beatrice stayed close for one quarter, although NE led most of the way. With Marple hitting 4 buckets from the corner and Witherby taking perfect feeds for a pair in close, NE grabbed a 16-14 first quarter lead.

Beatrice countered in the opening stanza with good teamwork setting up baskets, especially for Bob Hohn, who had 9 points.

NE Settles

Both teams grew ragged in the second period. The Orange stayed ragged, Northeast settled.

With the score 20-19 midway in the period, Witherby got two quick goals and Ron Peet another. Hohn got one back for Beatrice, but Witherby and Peet scored again before the half for a 30-21 lead.

Marple canned 3 more goals early in the second half, NE held a 37-21 lead, and the game was virtually over. It was 51-29 by the end of 3 periods, and 60-35 early in the 4th period.

Reserves In

Reserves took over for both teams, and Beatrice pressed helped cut the final margin.

Marple counted 25 points in another big night for the Rocket ace.

Witherby added 15, the same number scored by Hohn. The Rockets hit a good 42% on 24 of 57, while Beatrice canned 34% (19-56).

Haas Peps Links

... 53-42 Win

Lincoln Star Special

Hastings — Gary Haas capped a 3rd period Lincoln High spurt which boosted the Links to a 53-42 victory over Hastings here Friday night.

Hastings held a 25-24 halftime lead, and the lead alternated 4 times in the early minutes of the second quarter. Then Lincoln came up with 9 straight points, 5 of them by Haas, to gain a working margin.

Hastings crept back to within 3 points, but 3 corner jumpers by Jim Scanlon again gave Lincoln breathing room. With 2 minutes to play, the Links, now 9-4 for the season, held a 49-38 lead.

The Links jumped to an early first quarter lead, but turned cold in the second half. Scanlon's bucket with 4 seconds remaining in the half cut the lead to one point.

Haas canned 22 points for the night, with Scanlon adding 14. Sam Hoagland led Hastings with 18. The Tiger season mark dropped to 7-6.

ALLIANCE WINS; LEADS BIG TEN

Alliance—The Alliance Bulldogs took over leadership of the West Big 10 conference Friday night as Dick Stephans, Jim Kettelhut and Jack Farley combined to lead the Bulldogs to an easy 73-54 victory over McCook.

The victory leaves Alliance with a 5-2 conference record and gives McCook a 4-2 record. The conference title could be decided tonight.

McCook: 13 11 16 34—54. Alliance: 21 17 12 23—73. Winner's high: Dick Stephans, 19. Loser's high: Don Skoumal, 13.

—HELLERICH, WEEKS HOT—

Tutors Thump Minden 55-52

University High put together a potent attack in the 2nd and 3rd periods Friday night then hung on to topple Minden, 55-52.

The Whippets, rated No. 1 in The Star's Class B poll, found the going rough until the final period when they tallied 22 points to Uni's 9.

Charlie Hellerich and Bruce Weeks led the Tutors with 21 and 19 points respectively. Hellerich's buckets were all from the inside.

Week's thrilled the crowd by canning several 30-footers while Minden defenders looked on in amazement.

University High's Dennis Karnopp did a great job of holding Minden's Warren Bjorklund in check.

4 Buckets

Bjorklund, Minden's top scorer was held to just 4 buckets from the field. He hit 10 for 10 from the free throw line, however.

Minden rushed out to a 6-point lead but the Tutors fought back to come within two points at the end of the first period.

Uni opened up in the second and 3rd stanzas to outscore Minden, 32-18.

Efforts Futile

The Whippets came out of their zone defense in the final period but their efforts fell short. It was Hellerich's two free throws that clinched the contest for Tutors.

University High's record is now 8-7. Minden is now 12-2.

I-State Brings 3-Ring Circus To NU Tonight

... FROSH, VARSITY, TWIRLER TO PERFORM

Iowa State brings a 3-ring circus to the Nebraska Coliseum tonight, but NU basketball teams need worry about only the first two acts.

Starting at 5:45, Nebraska's freshmen make their Big 8 debut against the I-State yearlings.

The Cyclone-NU varsity struggle comes at 8:05 and Iowa State coed Joyce Rice, national baton twirling champion, solos during halftime.

Miss Rice won't furnish much opposition to the Huskers, but the two Cyclone quintets are plenty of reason for concern.

Iowa State has a 4-4 record in the Big 8, with another win possible via forfeit over Colorado. The Cyclones hold a 57-53 cision over Nebraska in a battle at Ames.

Husker coach Jerry Bush will go with his usual starting lineup of Herschel Turner, Jim Kowalek, Al Maxey, Bob Harry and Al Bauck as NU bids to flag down win No. 2 in the Big 8.

The Huskers have a 1-7 record, but could — like Iowa State — pick up another victory if a protest against Colorado is upheld.

Coach Glen Anderson is expected to start his customary Iowa State lineup including Vinnie Brewer, Henry Whitney, Terry Roberts, Gary Wheeler and Larry Fie.

Jumping Jack Whitney (6-7) and the 6-11 Roberts could give the Huskers fits off the boards while Wheeler, Fie and Brewer pepper the bucket from the outside.

Iowa State has an 11-6 season mark, Nebraska 4-14.

Coach Tony Sharpe is expected to start Sammy Kreigh, Larry Bemis, Chet Paul, Bill Vasey and Mike Stacey for the NU frosh in the preliminary.

STOCKS

ADVANCE

New York (AP) — Despite semi-solid conditions of Lincoln's birthday and the lightest volume of 1960, the stock market made a sizable advance Friday.

Pivotal issues advanced from fractions to more than a point while some secondary stocks rose 5 points or more.

Quoted values of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange rose an estimated $1,600,000, based on the rise in The Associated Press average.

Volume dipped to 2,320,000 shares from 2,510,000 Thursday and was the smallest since Dec. 24 when 2,320,000 shares changed hands.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 1.66 to 622.33.

The AP 60-stock average rose 1.20 to 215.40, with the industrials up 2.00, the rails up 1.4 and the utilities unchanged.

Motors, rails, rubbers, farm implements, nonferrous metals, drugs and building materials were higher.

Twelve of the 15 most active stocks advanced, three declined and one was unchanged.

Only 1,146 issues were traded. Of the total, 516 advanced and 373 declined.

New highs for 1959-60 totaled five and new lows 45.

American Stock Exchange prices were irregularly higher on volume of 840,000 shares compared with 810,000 Thursday.

Corporate bonds showed lower.

Reports were not available on U.S. government bonds because banks and investment houses specializing in these securities were closed.

Bond volume declined to $3,690,000 par value compared with $4,330,000 Thursday.

SINCE 1905

Census Surveyors Will Find Increase In State

Census takers soon will swing into action in Nebraska and the remainder of the nation to ascertain just where folks are living these days, and in what numbers.

It's the 1960 edition of the decennial (every 10 years) U.S. nose count and the tally date is April 1.

Just what will the census disclose about Nebraska's population changes since 1950?

Predictions are hazardous but these probably findings shape up as "best bets":

10% Rise
—Nebraska's population has increased by more than 10 per cent in the past 10 years.

—The big cities have been growing larger while rural areas have been losing population.

—Bellevue and Sidney have been the fastest growing of the state's 24 major cities, with excellent gains scored also by Omaha, Lincoln, Columbus, Fremont, Grand Island, Holdrege, Kearney, Lexington, Norfolk, North Platte and South Sioux City.

Dr. Edgar Z. Palmer, chairman of the University of Nebraska Department of Business research, makes an analysis every two years, deriving estimates of population by city and by county in the state.

"Best Bet" Basis
The reports of the Census Bureau and Dr. Palmer form the basis of the "best bet" predictions.

The 1950 census credited Nebraska with a population of 1,325,510.

As of last July 1 — and this is the last Census Bureau estimate available — the figure was 1,456,000, or an increase since 1950 of 9.8 per cent.

Assuming a continuation of the trend in the nine months between last July 1 and this coming April 1, the increase for the decade should exceed 10 per cent for a figure in the neighborhood of 1,470,000 persons.

Dr. Palmer's last analysis was based on the Census Bureau's July 1, 1958 statewide estimate of 1,434,000 and reflected a continuing pattern of population movement away from the farm and small town into cities and metropolitan areas.

22 Cities Up 19.6%

"According to my estimates, Lincoln and Omaha together went up 21.3 per cent," Dr. Palmer said of his 1958 analysis. "The 22 other larger cities for which estimates were made went up 19.6 per cent. That leaves the remainder of the state going down .4 per cent."

"If we had included all of the 38 cities with more than 2,500 population in the city group, it still would have shown an increase and the non-city remainder would have shown an even larger drop."

Among towns of 1,000 and under, the population generally dropped from 1940 to 1950 "and evidence seems to be that it's still going down," Dr. Palmer said.

The following table lists the 24 largest Nebraska cities on the basis of the 1950 census, showing the official population and Dr. Palmer's revised estimates of population as of July 1, 1958:

	1950	Official	Estimated
1. Omaha	251,117	251,117	265,500
